

March is Reading Month 2014

Unis Middle School

Compete in our Olympic Reading Challenge by completing a reading log during SSR time in school and at home. Have the log signed by a parent or teacher and turn it in every Friday to be included in our count. Grade levels will be clashing over minutes and pages read. We will also be tracking individual medalists.

Compete in our Book Adventure Contest. Take quizzes on books that you read to earn points. Earn points for your team as well as prizes from this website. The directions for registering your account and joining the contest are on the back of this page.

Join our writing Olympians by submitting a creative writing piece to be included in McCollough-Unis' first ever March is Reading Month e-Book. The theme is Olympics, so get creative! Please see the suggested writing ideas outside of your ELA teacher's doors.

Family Reading Night

Family Reading Activity Night is March 20th from 5:30-7:00. Activities include Bingo for Books, art projects, face painting, and more.

Join us to learn how to make your own online comic or an e-Book. The sign up sheet for these sessions will be posted outside of room 123.

Support your fellow readers by writing book reviews. The review forms will be available in the media center and shared in a unique way.

CLOSING CEREMONY Our closing ceremony will take place on March 31st. All of the countries will be meeting together to celebrate the end of our reading events. We will be awarding our grade level and individual medalists for each of our events. Keep track of our reading Olympians on our leaderboards featured in the cafeteria.
